But Shaw insided on staying and it was not until Fire Commissioner Robert Lecky. Jr., tolard his pleas with those of the physician that the chief was prevailed on to go. He was placed in his own buggy and rapidly driven to the truck house on East Grace Street. It was not thought at the time that he was seriously ill. Hie sat on a bench near a stove and became worse, and then Dr. H. W. Bassett, who had been summoned in the meantime, and Dr. Pretlow saw that it was time for heroic action. They administered restoratives, but the man, gasping for breath, fell back, his face became cold and white, and the two hipsystelans knew that his life was ebbing away.

very start in his new and more responsible position.

Although Chief Shaw was a strict disciplinarian, and required his men to adhere faithfully to the rules of the department, he enjoyed the atmost respect and confidence at their hands, and was popular among all those with whom his duties brought him in contact.

He was a brave man in every emergency, and never flinched during his long record as a fire-ingiter, though he was often called upon to face danger in connection with his hazardous duties.

ger in connection with his least duties.

Chief Shaw enjoyed the utmost respect and confidence of the city officials and the public, and widespread regret was expressed last night at his sudden death.

The funeral arrangements had not been made last night, but will be announced to-day.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Miss Mary Cassatt, sister of the late A. J.
Cassatt, who was president or the Pennsylvania Railroad, landed to-day on the French steamer LaProvence, from Havre. The skipper of the big ship had expected to dock on Friday evening, but she biew out a stuffing box and could not make repairs quickly enough to warrant her coming up in the dark. Tugs escorted her to her pier.

Miss Cassatt has wen fame as a pertrait painter, and is one of a limited number of women to receive the decoration of the Legion of Honor. She is here on a visit, having made her home in France for twenty-five years. She was here the last time ten years ago. She was met at the pier by J. G. Cassatt, her brother, and his wife, her nephew, Robert K. Cassatt, of Philadelphia, Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer and Mrs. Joseph Durand-Ruel.

PITYSBURG, PA., November 21.—
Monteflore Meyers is in the central station to-night, and to-morrow will acback to New York City with Inspector McCafferty, of the New York police, on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree. He came here about two mouths ago and engaged the inost three-room suite at the Hotel Schenley. To the men he met in the smoking room he confided that he was the Aus-tralian representative of the Noths-childs. When Baron Rothschild became confident that Taft was to be elected he sent Meyers here, said Meyers, to invest in the Pittsburg district $175, 900,000.

Emperor William Jakes Address at Centennial of City Council.

BERLIN, November 21—Emperor William made his first appearance in public to-day since the occasion of his interview with Chanceflor Von Buelow last Tuesday, when the prince urged upon His Majesty the need of speaking and acting only on the advice of his responsible ministers, and he gave a striking example of his readiness to observe the obligation then taid upon him.

The occasion was the centennial celes or the first of the formation of the souncil. When the Emperor wided to the first of the formation of the public of the formation of the souncil. The occasion was the centencial celebration of the formation of the City Council. When the Empera arose to ascend the tribune, Prince Von Buslow stepped forward and impressively handed him a printed sheet and the Empera custom of speaking extemporaneously, confined his remarks to what was on this paper.

After a few formal expressions, His Majesty made the following references to recent occurrences.

"I cherish a fitn confidence that the bond of loyalty and affection which from ancient times in our fatherian has so closely joined the King and the citizens the Prince and the people, always will remain unbroken. The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and mutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM...it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.
